

Cma - 1052 Rivershore Avenue, Polk County, FL, 33809

Generated: May 23, 2026

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

We are excited to present a detailed market analysis for 1052 Rivershore Avenue. Based on our comprehensive review of recent sales in the Polk County area, we have crafted a strategy designed to maximize your return on this beautiful, waterfront property. With its desirable location, updated 2019 construction, and premier features like the fenced yard and screened porch, your home is exceptionally positioned to appeal to today's market buyers.

The local market shows strong activity, with comparable homes selling across a range of values. Our goal is to ensure your listing is priced not just competitively, but optimally, allowing us to target the right buyers and achieve a swift, strong sale. This presentation outlines exactly why the recommended price range is the perfect starting point to capture immediate buyer interest.

We are committed to guiding you through every step of this process. We will leverage our local expertise and our deep understanding of buyer expectations to ensure your home receives the best possible attention, leading to a successful closing.

COMPARABLE ANALYSIS

Our review of recent sales provided a clear snapshot of buyer appetite and value in the neighborhood. Analyzing these five comparable sales helps us understand how different features—like size, amenities, and overall condition—impact sale price.

* 223 Martin Dr ($165,000): This sale represents the lower end of the recent market data. It shows us the buying power for homes in the area that may be smaller or require more updates. * 2265 Bella Luna Cir ($465,000): This comparable sale demonstrates the top end of the market. It highlights that when a property offers a substantial footprint and excellent finishes, buyers are willing to pay a premium price. * 5414 Fieldstone Dr ($350,000) and 1525 Slash Pine Rd ($300,000): These two sales provide key data points for the middle market. They establish a strong value bracket for well-maintained, four-bedroom homes that feature desirable layouts. * 2724 Sundance Pl ($280,000): This sale is highly relevant to your property, showing that a property with a similar size and layout to your home can command a solid price point, reinforcing the value of your specific market segment.

Overall, the comps reveal that value is driven by a combination of square footage, number of bedrooms, and overall appeal. These sales give us a strong foundation for accurately valuing the desirable, updated features of 1052 Rivershore Avenue.

PRICING RATIONALE

Based on the thorough comparison of local sales data, the desirable features of 1052 Rivershore Avenue (including its waterfront location, modern 2019 build, updated status, and screened porch), and current market averages, we are recommending a list price range of $262,500 - $297,500.

This range is strategically positioned. It acknowledges the strong comparable sales that fall in the $300,000 to $350,000 bracket while leaving room for negotiation and ensuring we price the home attractively enough to generate immediate, serious interest. We believe this pricing maximizes visibility while remaining highly justifiable given the premium nature of your waterfront and updated property.

MARKET CONDITIONS SUMMARY

The local housing market in Polk County is showing consistent and robust activity. With comparable sales ranging from $165,000 to $465,000, and an average sold price of $312,967, buyers are actively engaged and viewing a variety of property types. The presence of seven recent sold comparables confirms a strong seller's market environment where well-presented, unique properties like yours are highly sought after and viewed favorably by potential buyers.